

Mission Statement

The College of Dental Hygienists of Nova Scotia, in the best interest of the public, regulates members, promotes excellence in care and advances the profession.

April is Oral Health Month

To promote our wonderful profession and to honour our members, the CDHNS had reinstated the "You Make Me Smile" Award and the "Ambassador of the Year" Award.

The "You Make Me Smile" Award is presented to a dental hygienist who has been nominated by a client for extraordinary care or concern. Posters can be displayed to spread awareness of the award in offices; they are available on page 6 of this newsletter.

The winner will be awarded with a COMPLIMENTARY REGISTRATION for the AGM and CE Conference on June 4th, a great prize, and will be featured in an upcoming issue of The Unison.

Our ambassadors explore opportunities for alternative practice settings and utilize a broader scope of practice as oral health providers and promoters, client advocates, educators, researchers, entrepreneurs or employees.

The "Ambassador of the Year" Award is presented to the dental hygienist who has provided education and supported the community outreach objectives of the College to the fullest in the past year.

The winner will be presented with a great prize during lunch at the AGM and CE Conference on June 4th and will be featured in an upcoming issue of The Unison.

This AGM and CE Day marks the fifth continuing competency event that the CDHNS has sponsored. A special recognition will be given to members who have attended all CDHNS CE Events, including the upcoming AGM and CE Event on June 4th.

April 9 - 15, 2016 is National Dental Hygienist Week!

The CDHNS encourages its members to explore the many ways they can promote National Dental Hygienist Week and Oral Health Month in their communities. Providing education through a community presentation, volunteering at a Gift From the Heart event, discussing oral health with government officials, or taking the time to provide oral health care to a Nova Scotian that would otherwise go without.

Let us know how you celebrate National Dental Hygienist Week, and we may promote it in a future edition of the Unison. This may also be the winning entry for the "Ambassador of the Year" Award!

AUGUST 1, 2016

FROM THE DESK OF THE REGISTRAR

As I write I am thinking that everything is relative! That is compared to last winter's weather, we have fared much better this season and we are so grateful for sunny skies and -10 degrees. Council is planning for the AGM and CE on June 04, 2016. You will see further information about the AGM including the nominees for election to Council in this edition of the Unison. As well as information on the CDHNS annual Continuing Competency Event - "Focus on the Workplace". Including information on our exciting and entertaining key note speaker!

Earlier this week I reviewed the Entry-to-Practice National Dental Hygiene Competencies and Standards for Canadian Dental Hygienists for the new blueprint for the National Dental Hygiene Certification Board exam. These Entry-to-Practice Competencies were approved by the CDHNS as a practice standard for all dental hygienists in Nova Scotia in 2010. One competency for entry-to-practice under Dental Hygiene Assessment (pg.41) is: "Recognize the influence of the determinants of health on oral health status." (http://www.cdha.ca/pdfs/Competencies_and_Standards.pdf)

The World Health Organization (WHO) defines the social determinants of health as the circumstances in which people are born, develop, live and age. They include:

- income and income distribution
- early life
- education
- housing
- food security
- employment and working conditions
- unemployment and job security
- social safety net
- social inclusion and exclusion
- health services

Yesterday I attended a presentation held at Dalhousie University Medical School regarding Health Equity and the Social Determinants of Health in Canada. The presenters discussed the factors which determine the Health of Canadians. Two presenters used the same slide titled "What Makes Canadians Sick?" produced by the Canadian Medical Association (CMA). Surprisingly the health care system as it exists only makes up 25% of the health of Canadians, fifty percent of what makes Canadians sick are factors associated with the determinants of health. On the CMA website you can see the slide and the depiction of what makes Canadians sick according to the CMA. (<https://www.cma.ca/En/Pages/health-equity.aspx>)

One of the presenters Dr. Ryan Meili is the Executive Director of "Upstream", a Saskatoon-based non-profit that works to reframe public discourse around addressing the social determinants of health in order to build a healthier society. (http://www.thinkupstream.net/about_upstream)

Council continues to seek information through ownership linkages from both the CDHNS's moral owners "the public" and their legal owners "the members". Information gained through ownership linkage is used by Council to shape their "Ends" policies.

At the January Council meeting, two interesting and informative ownership linkage sessions with moral owners took place. These were with Dr. John Ross, a Capital Health emergency room physician and professor and residency program director at Dalhousie University and Dr. Greg Jones, Regional Dental Officer for Health Canada, First Nations Inuit Health for the Atlantic Provinces. Both of these individuals were asked to respond to questions concerning trends in health care and the impacts on Nova Scotians, specifically on the topic of "Oral Health Care Coverage for All". Both speakers in responding to questions identified factors in the determinants of health.

Dr. Ross gained Council's attention from an interesting article published in the Chronicle Herald in 2015, entitled "Reboot multi-tier, haphazard 'disease care' system." (You can find the article at <http://thechronicleherald.ca/opinion/1303865-dr.-john-ross-reboot-multi-tier-haphazard-%E2%80%99disease-care%E2%80%99-system>.)

Since oral health is an integral part of overall health those same determinants of health must be considered when we ask "What makes Canadians have poor oral health?" Do we as health care practitioners "Recognize the influence of the determinants of health on oral health status."? Are we practicing to the standard of that entry level competency? What might improve our ability to meet this practice standard? Consider does your practice include a social history which considers the determinants of health, are treatment alternatives considered, are you culturally competent and do you know what resources are available in your community to refer those clients who struggle with issues influenced by the determinants of health? What are some of the current solutions being discussed to address equity and the social determinants of health? (Hint - see "Upstream" above)

The CDHNS continues to look for and take opportunities to forward the recommendations of the White Paper - Dental Hygienists Prevent More to Treat Less all of which was written with the determinants of health in mind.

Happy Spring and see you at the AGM.

CDHNS UPDATES

Continuing Competency Committee

The Continuing Competency Committee met on February 13, 2016 to complete the Continuing Competency Audits. Of the 39 audits conducted, 29 met the requirements, and 10 failed to meet the requirements set out in the Continuing Competency Guidelines. To date, 9 members have sent in additional documentation and/or completed additional courses to complete the credits outstanding from their 2015 CE cycle. The remaining member has submitted a plan to complete which was accepted by the CDHNS and will be complete mid-April. One member did not submit their audit documents and has since cancelled her non-practicing membership with the CDHNS.

The main reasons that members' audits were incomplete included:

- Lack of Certificate of Attendance forms for CPR

Members must submit a Certificate of Attendance to receive full credits for their CPR courses. If only the CPR card is submitted, members will receive 1 credit for that CPR course.

- Credits on a sponsoring company's Certificate of Attendance are not necessarily as specified in the Guidelines nor accepted by the Continuing Competency Committee.

Many companies and/or sponsors advertise their courses to be a set amount of credits, or within a certain category, or show the amount of hands-on credits attendees will receive. Members must follow the CDHNS Guidelines for proper categorization and hands-on courses will not receive 2 credits per hour as of January 2016.

- Incomplete information on course receipts including a course description and times.

Without complete information showing on a CE receipt, the Continuing Competency Committee cannot determine the category or the amount of credits that a course will be valued. For example, companies may place a credit amount on their receipt without showing the amount of hours the course was held. If a receipt does not show the information required for the Committee to determine the course's value, the member must submit more information. All members are encouraged to keep the course outline, including a schedule, to be submitted at the time of audit.

During the Continuing Competency Committee meeting, all study club reports that were submitted for 2015 were reviewed and assigned credits to the meetings. Study Clubs that failed to respond and did not submit their annual report were deleted from the CDHNS list of study clubs as per the Guidelines. Study Clubs may be reinstated by submitting the completed annual form and paying the applicable reinstatement fee.

Some in-office study clubs have office meetings or office business topics on their study club report. These types of meetings do not meet the Continuing Competency Guidelines and are not awarded any CE credits.

Three Year Notice: Regulatory Change re: Practice Hours Requirement

(effective beginning in the three-year period starting from November 1, 2017)

The CDHNS is currently seeking regulation changes to establish practice hour requirements as provided for under the Dental Hygienists Act, Section 7. ss.4 (d)

"The Council may, with the approval of the Governor in Council and subject to this Act, make regulations respecting requirements for members to participate in any such program, and including continuing education requirements or practice-hour requirements of members for registration or licensing.

Three-year notice is hereby given that Council has approved a requirement for licencing or licence renewal that for registrants who have graduated more than three years prior to their application for a licence or licence renewal the registrant provide evidence of 600 hours of practice as a dental hygienist within the 3 years immediately preceding the date the Registrar receives a complete application.

Hours of practice will be tracked beginning from November 1, 2017 and the 600 hours requirement will take effect on November 01, 2020.

For more information and background on this subject see Unison, Vol 43, Issue 3 Quality Assurance – Practice Hours at: <http://www.cdhns.ca/Unison%20CDHNS%20Newsletter%20March%202015.pdf>.

Barb will be speaking on Thriving in Our Changing Workplace

In today's rapidly changing healthcare settings Dental Hygienists are called upon to continuously adapt their professional practice to accommodate new rules and new roles, collaborate with diverse service providers, and manage increasingly challenging populations and relationships. While some may thrive as they move forward in this new world order many more struggle to 'survive'. This high energy, humorous, reflective, and inspirational presentation will challenge participants to examine their own attitudes and behaviors as well as those of their colleagues and their impact on the quality their workplace relationships and patient/client care outcomes. Other highlights include managing the antics of 'negaholics', workplace royalty, and other 'undiscussables' that create barriers in practice. It will conclude with tips for thriving as a practitioner and a call to action for strengthening professional relationships and creating places where people want to work.

- The 2015 CDHA Employment and Salary Survey
- Information on independent practice including a live panel discussion with two independent dental hygiene practitioners
